

SHIPPING UPDATE

In the current climate, we understand our retail stockists will be feeling the economic impact of social distancing measures.

In a small way of trying to help ease the situation, we want to highlight the fact we can ship products direct to your customers at no extra charge.

For all orders under $100 wholesale we will still need to pass on our $10 freight charge to you, but for orders over $100 wholesale, freight is free.

Where possible, please check with your customer to see if they are self-isolating. If they are, we will make this clear to the courier for when delivery is made

We hope we can support your online and phone sales over this trying time.

Make your order online or give us a call as usual

We are taking extra precautions when packing all orders to ensure all health and safety requirements for our customers and staff are met

Delivery will be made from our warehouse straight to your client's home
